Changzhou Vocational Institute of Engineering (CZIE)

— Introduction to CZIE

Founded in 1958, Changzhou Vocational Institute of Engineering (CZIE) is located in Changzhou Science and Education Park, with an area of 67 hectares. CZIE composes of 8 secondary schools and 44 programs, with Chemical Engineering and Construction Engineering as features.

CZIE insists to run a modern open school. German specialists are invited to participate in the training of student-teacher practical capabilities. Sino-German KNOW-HOW Automobile Institute is founded. Nearly 180 overseas students from the Belt and Road countries are enrolled and studying in about 20 programs. Belt and Road Research Branch Institute has also been founded in CZIE. Besides, Sino-German International Welding Technology Training Center and Sino-Ukraine Welding Technology Research Institute are located at CZIE as well.

Intercollegiate cooperation projects are carried out with colleges in Canada, Australia, Singapore, Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan and other countries and regions. The introduction of German SES experts helps to guide the professional development. CZIE also introduced international vocational qualification certificates and SGS, ASME, EN287, ISO9606, Germany dual system curriculum system and other international standards.

CZIE enjoys a good social recognition and reputation. CZIE is nominated as National Vocational Education Advanced Unit , it is also one of the top ten Higher Vocational Colleges in Jiangsu.
